

Kauko and Medixine partner to bring connected health to Germany

Digitalization of healthcare processes is rapidly speeding up all over the world and the need for ready-to-scale solutions is high. A recent change in legislation in Germany has now activated the German market to seek professional, immediately scalable solutions for connected care.

Kauko has been looking for a suitable platform for its healthcare customers in Germany and is now bringing the Medixine Suite cloud solution to the German speaking market in Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

“Our goal is to present a selection of highest quality Scandinavian products and Medixine provides a platform for our offering. The functionalities already implemented in the solution can immediately be offered to our customers.” Says Juha Rytönen, head of business development in healthcare at Kauko.

“We have already been in contact with potential customers in different market segments and the response has been extremely positive” says Carsten Schmid, Kauko’s healthcare sales lead in the German speaking market.

“We see a huge potential with our product that is now localized for Germany and ready to go! Medixine Suite’s configurability allows for an easy entry to several market segments. Our proven scalability can accommodate large user numbers from the start.” Says Dr. Tapio Jokinen, Medixine’s CEO.

About Medixine

Medixine Ltd is specialized in connected care solutions. Originally a Finnish company, it operates in all Scandinavian countries and the EU. Medixine’s core product Medixine Suite is the result of over 15 years of research and development. It offers tools for new, more effective care where patients’ active participation in the prevention and care processes and efficient communication between all parties in the care community is essential.
